NONTRADITIONAL STUDENTS INVITED TO UM PROGRAM

Individuals who have been away from school for a few years and feel anxious about pursuing or continuing a post-secondary education can pick up helpful information about re-entering student life at a free program Tuesday, Jan. 11, at The University of Montana.

"Return To Learn" will begin with a general informational session from 5:30 to 6:50 p.m. in Room 220 of the University Center. Topics will include admissions, financial aid, career choices and support services, and representatives from several campus offices will be available to answer questions. An in-depth presentation by a Financial Aid Office representative will follow from 7 to 9 p.m. in the UC's Copper Commons.
